Quick Guide to Access VA Medical Images and Reports

Below are easy, step-by-step instructions to access VA Medical Images and Reports. To begin:

- (1) Log in to your My HealtheVet Premium account using your My HealtheVet User ID and Password or a Sign-in Partner
- (2) Select Health Records in the dashboard
- (3) Select VA Medical Images and Reports
- (4) Select Check Updates
- (5) Select the View Images link to view your images and report in your browser
 - a) The Images tab displays the main image and thumbnail views
 - b) The Report tab provides options (PDF File or View/Print button) to retrieve your personal information report
- (6) Or, select the Download link to access your images and report in a single .zip file for each study

NOTE: The processing time may vary depending on the size of the file. If your file sizes are very large, this process may take more time to complete. You can opt to receive an email notification that your file is ready on your My Profile page under the Personal Information tab.

- (7) Select the View Report link to view, print or download a PDF copy of the Radiology Report for the desired study
- (8) Optional: You can also choose to download a medical image viewer. It allows you to view Digital Imaging and Communications in Medicine (DICOM) image files. Please refer to the Optional: Available DICOM Viewers for Viewing Images section of this guide for instructions on downloading this software to view your DICOM images.
- (9) Optional: You may transfer your images and reports from your computer (PC or MAC) onto a CD, DVD, USB flash drive, personal subscription service (such as iCloud or DropBox), or any portable drive of your choice.

Back to Top

Do not save your downloaded information to a public computer. When using a public computer, save your health information to a CD, thumb (flash) drive, or mobile device. If using a public computer, be sure to log out after you have finished. Remember to take the CD or thumb drive with you when you finish.

You need to have access to a printer connected to the computer if you want to print your health information. Do not leave your printed information in a printer.

If you are using a personal subscription service (such as iCloud or DropBox) to help you manage documents and other types of files, be sure the service uses a secure wireless network. For extra privacy protection, save sensitive documents, such as health care records, on a password protected hard drive or mobile device. Do not use cloud services on a public computer.

You are responsible for protecting your personal health information when you print or download it. It is important to protect your information. Protect this information the same way you would protect your banking or credit card information.

VA Medical Images and Reports – Overview

Veterans who are VA patients with a My HealtheVet Premium account are able to access and download available VA Medical Images and Reports from their VA electronic health record (EHR) via Internet access. Veteran patients with a Premium My HealtheVet account can download VA Medical Images and Reports and save, print, and copy Digital Imaging and Communications in Medicine (DICOM) images (also known as diagnostic images) and on a Compact Disc (CD) to present to their caregivers and non-VA health care providers. Currently Radiology images and reports are available to download and save.

Radiology images include:

- Mammograms (screening and diagnostic)
- Radiographs (chest x-rays, abdominal x-rays, bone x-ray)
- Digital radiography (DR), computed radiography (CR)
- Fluoroscopy (barium swallow, upper GI, barium enema)
- Ultrasounds
- CT scans images and nuclear medicine images, may include Magnetic Resonance (MR) in facilities with PET (Positron Emission Tomography)/MR
- MRI, MR angiography, MR Venography
- Angiography radiographs and cine loops
- Interventional Radiology as part of the procedure, may include radiographs, ultrasound, CT, or cine loop.
 - Note: Ultrasound and Nuclear Medicine may have color images.

Back to Top

NOTE:

- Not all VA Radiology imaging studies are available, however VA Radiology reports are available using the Blue Button Medical Reports feature. This is linked from the My HealtheVet homepage under Health Records.
- The processing time may vary depending on the size of the file. If your file sizes are very large, this process may take more time to complete. On the My Profile page, you can opt to receive an email notification that your file is available.

Back to Top

Completed requests are available for 3 calendar days. If needed, you can submit the request again at any time.

You can request up to three studies at any one time. If more than three studies are requested, the system will display a message to let you know that you can request additional studies once the current requests have completed.

If you have a question about your medical images or the associated report, contact your VA health care team.

Opening a .Zip File

To protect your personal health information, do not open a .zip file when using a public computer. It will automatically save the information in the download folder of that computer and may be visible to other users.

The My HealtheVet Blue Button VA Medical Images and Reports feature allows you to open images and reports transmitted in a .zip file. Your images and reports are provided in a single .zip file for each study.

You can identify .zip files by the zipper on the folder icon.

When your download is complete, your files will be saved in your DICOM.zip file. To open the .zip file, double-click the folder to open files containing the medical images and report. The unzipped folder opens in a new window, and you can begin working with the files contained inside that folder.

The .zip file contains the following files:

DICOMDIR: Shows the program (Adobe Acrobat) that will be used to open the PDF file

- DICOM: A folder that contains your medical images
- README.TXT: Provides a few tips for using the .zip file
- REPORT: This is the same report that is available in PDF or .txt format when you click on the View button instead of the Download button for a study

Back to Top

You are responsible for protecting your personal health information when you download it. It is important to protect your information. Protect this information the same way you would protect your banking or credit card information. Do not save your downloaded information to a public computer.

Optional: Available DICOM Viewers for Viewing Images

DICOM, which stands for Digital Imaging and Communication in Medicine, is medical imaging technology that provides storage and convenient access to images from multiple types of equipment. It allows communication between various image sources and computer devices so that you can view, store and print medical images.

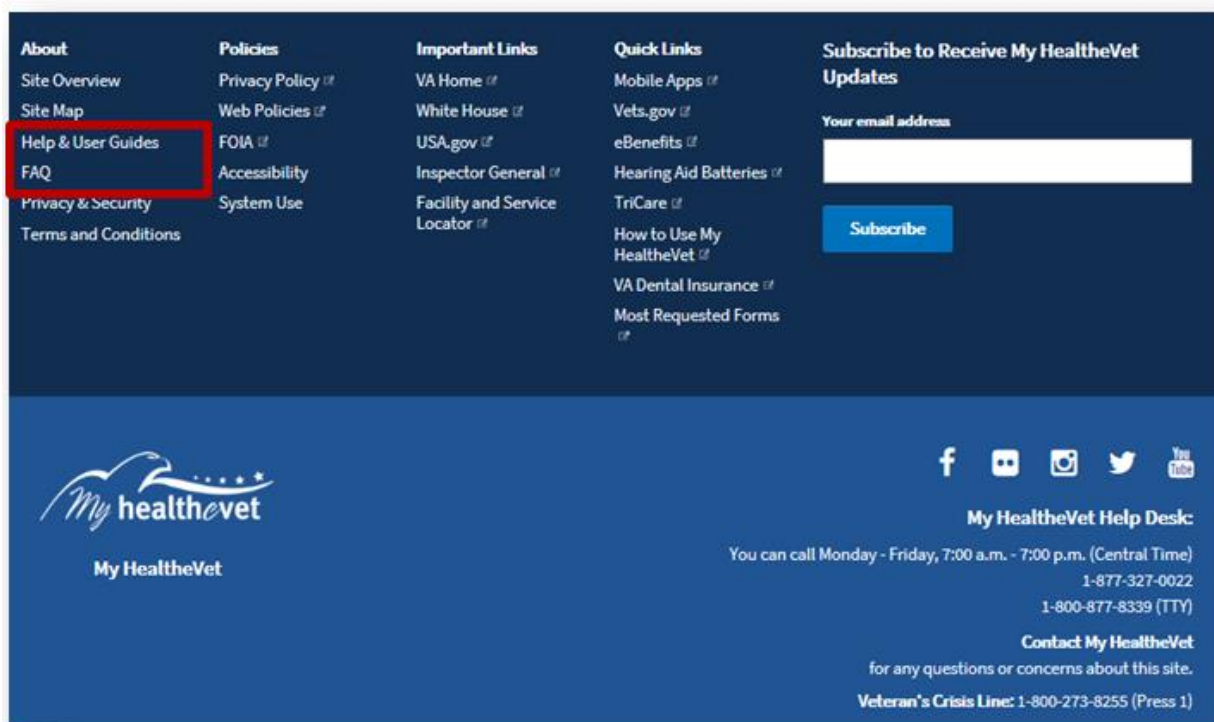

The following are available DICOM Viewers for saving, printing and copying your studies. Click on a DICOM Viewer for more information and instructions on how to download it to your computer:

	ImageJ is a free JAVA image processing program. It runs on computers with Java 1.4 or later. ImageJ displays, saves and prints medical images. It reads graphic formats including TIFF, GIF, JPEG, and DICOM (Digital Imaging and Communications in Medicine).
	RadiAnt is a free DICOM viewer. It allows users to view, save and print medical images from a CD or DVD disc. There are no installation or programming requirements like JAVA.
	Mango is a free viewer for medical images. It allows users to view, edit and analyze medical images in dimensions like 2D, 3D and 4D.
	Synedra Synedra is a free viewer that supports the display of DICOM, PDF, and various image and video formats. It is loaded from the Synedra AIM file system.
